

Antioch Beats Grant, Grayslake, and Loses To McHenry in Week

Sequoits On Comeback Trail Playing Heads-Up Ball, But A Little Late

Antioch High's Sequoits hit the comeback trail with a vengeance during the past week.

After trouncing Grayslake there Friday 66 to 51 for the second victory over the Rams this season, and losing to McHenry there Saturday by only one point—78 to 77—the Sequoits came back even stronger Tuesday night and humbled the Grant Bulldogs 74 to 57 at Ingleside.

Although the upsurge came too late to give Antioch a conference championship the Sequoits can shoot for second place if they keep up the pace.

"Our boys suddenly realized that they could play a brand of ball that they potentially had in them all year," said Coach Larry Leon.

"Even at McHenry, where they lost by only one point in a high scoring game, they played heads-up ball," he added.

Grant was never in the game Tuesday night and the score was 70 to 42 when with three minutes left to play Coach Leon sent in his substitutes.

The Sequoits have been improving steadily since the Round Lake game. In the Grant game they capitalized on the Bulldog mistakes and were alert at all times.

Don Pyles, who has been on the reserve list up to two weeks ago, was in the starting lineup Tuesday night and added strength to the team both in scoring and rebounding. Leon now knows he has six men whom he can rotate and expect a good job.

"There is more evidence of team work than at any time this season," said Coach Leon. "I hope the boys keep this up in the remaining games with Wauconda here Friday night, and Lake Forest there, and Warren here in the remaining games."

Space Heaters Cause Fires in Two Homes; Total of Loss $3,200

Antioch firemen held to a minimum losses in two fires the first of this week.

Damage estimated at $1,200 by Chief Edgar Simonsen, was done to the east gable of the George Diamond Steak House on Rte. 59 Sunday afternoon.

A space heater in living quarters of an employee of the Steak House caused the blaze. Flames ate into a wall and burned into the gable before they were brought under control.

The second fire occurred about 8:35 a. m. Monday in an apartment of a converted garage building belonging to David Arthur on Main street just north of the high school building. Again a space heater caused the blaze.

A family identified as Taylor suffered a loss of furniture when the interior of the building was scorched.

Firemen took out a large amount of household effects stored in an attic. Other apartments consisting of a living room and kitchen were unoccupied at the time.

Chief Simonsen estimated the loss at $2,000.

Township Assessors In New Organization Seek Uniform Values

Robert G. Jasper Jr., New Supervisor, Announces County Meeting

A bright future for the Lake County Assessors' association, first organization of its kind in the state of Illinois, was forecast as the result of record attendance and marked enthusiasm, at the second meeting of the body held at Friendship House on Route 46, Feb. 6.

Highlight of the occasion was the introduction by Chairman William Pittenger, Deerfield Township assessor, of Robert G. Jasper, Jr., newly appointed Lake County supervisor of assessors, who took office February 1.

Jasper, former trustee of the village of Winthrop Harbor, has a wide background of experience in appraisal practice. In addition to serving as counsel to Lake County's eighteen township assessors and as secretary to the Board of Review, Jasper will act as liaison between the Assessors' Association, the County Board and officials of the State Department of Revenue.

He announced Wednesday, March 26, as the date for the annual meeting of assessors, to be held in the Board of Supervisors' room in the Court House. Harry F. Petitt of the Illinois Department of Revenue, will be the guest speaker.

Others who spoke at the association meeting were Rudolph Nagler, Cuba Township Assessor and Association vice-chairman, also Warren Boyes, Libertyville Township assessor. Nagler pointed out the extra burden of work and responsibility facing all assessors in 1958, which is a quadrennial re-valuation year, and urged that each take immediate steps to secure adequate appropriations from their respective Town Boards so that this work can be done competently and on time.

It was the consensus of those present that an important phase of re-valuation procedures will be the adoption of the new property record card, devised and recommended by the State Department of Revenue. This will include a scale plan (continued on page 7)

Barnstable & Brogan To Move Next Week

When the last customer is served Saturday evening, the staff of the Barnstable and Brogan store will begin the process of moving from the present site at 932 Main street across the street to the new location at 945 Main street, a building formerly occupied by the National Tea Co.

Russell Barnstable, owner of the building in which he and his partner Mabel Brogan will move their stock, expects the moving to take about five days, during which time the store will be closed.

"We hope to open on Friday, Feb. 21," Barnstable said.

The new building will provide two and one-half times as much space as the old one, something the firm has been needing for a long time. The larger space will give opportunity for better display of the stock and the customers to move about in making their selections.

White Elephant Sale Like Name Was a Big One

Someone has said that elephants have color according to whether one is at a zoo, on a week-end binge, or at an Antioch sale.

Antioch's White Elephant sale was all that was claimed for it.

Shoppers came in large numbers Friday and Saturday and the store operation pronounced the sale a success. Two merchants said their sales were larger than any yet experienced in sales of recent years.

Work will be started yet this month if the weather is suitable and the project will be completed by April 15, Manager R. M. Hawkins said.

The conduit blocks will be placed underground and the cable can be strung through it whenever desired. The area east of Lake Villa has been growing rapidly, calling for additional equipment.

Lindenhurst Officials Review Village's First Year In Report of Organization, Founding Procedure

A history of the first year of Lindenhurst reads like works of magic in which this incorporation of 700 persons on Grand avenue east of Lake Villa started with $34 in its treasury, developed full government and now even to the point of a police department with its own new squad car.

The report of the officials on the steps of organization follows:

The Village of Lindenhurst was incorporated in the fall of 1956. It had no officers, no ordinances, and a treasury of $34, obtained by passing the hat at several meetings of the residents of the Lindenhurst subdivision, held during 1956. The first officers of the newly formed village were elected in December of 1956. The purpose of the following report is two-fold: to acquaint the residents of the village with the progress of your board of trustees during the past year, and to discuss the plans of the board for the coming year.

The first actions of the board were the appointment of a village attorney and a village engineer, necessary to advise the village on many legal and technical problems. A village treasurer was also appointed. The positions of attorney and engineer are salaried; the president, board of trustees, clerk, and treasurer have volunteered their services without pay.

Probable New Record For Sub-Zero Weather In Month of February

Mercury Below Zero on Six Days in Succession In Antioch Area

With temperatures falling to zero or below for seven days Antioch has experienced one of the most prolonged cold spells for February on record.

The cold weather followed a heavy snowfall more than two weeks ago with snow still lying at a depth of six inches, melted only by the direct rays of the sun on clear days.

Melting temperature has not been experienced within two weeks and most of the time the mercury got no further than 10 to 20 degrees above zero. Lowest temperatures in the Antioch area were 8 below.

The records of Cooperative Observer Roy Kufalk for the month of February to yesterday showed the following high and low temperatures:

Feb. 1—21-11; Feb. 2—21-11; Feb. 3—25-8; Feb. 4—35-5; Feb. 5—36-17; Feb. 6—32-18; Feb. 7—19 and 2 below; Feb. 8—8 and 6 below; Feb. 9—4 and 8 below; Feb. 10—10 and 5 below; Feb. 11—8 and 2 below; Feb. 12—16 and 5 below. Last night's temperature was zero.

There was no precipitation in the 12 days. The prolonged cold spell is the result of a slow movement of arctic air directly from the north. The wind has not been strong, and there hasn't been any suffering from the cold. In fact, some Antioch residents assert they are so used to the low temperature now they do not mind it.

Travel is easy on main traveled roads that were cleared, but side roads and streets which became packed with snow have become ice-covered and treacherous. Motorists seem to have become used to the driving on slick streets and there are few reports of accidents.

Back in 1933 the cold was more severe, going to 24 below, but it did not last as long.

Rarely does the temperature go below zero after February 15, but this year may be an exception.

The extreme cold has put a stop to construction and as the result men are out of work. Unemployment has risen, but is expected to improve with warmer weather.

groups of ordinances were adopted by the board of trustees. The first group comprises the general ordinances. These provide the basic rules under which the village operates. They include such topics as duties of officials, streets, licenses, regulations of business, traffic laws, health regulations, dogs, and new subdivision standards.

Building Code Enacted

The second major ordinance is the building code. This code sets up minimum standards for all new buildings, and for all additions to existing buildings. The code includes construction materials, room size, septic systems, electrical work, etc. It is similar to the Lake county code, but stricter in some respects. A building inspector has been appointed to enforce the provisions of this code.

The third major ordinance is the zoning code. This divides the village into three areas: a residential area, an area on Grand Ave. set aside for a retail shopping center, and an area set aside for light industry. The ordinance regulates lot size, set backs, parking area, and the uses of the property. In particular, any industry would be closely regulated with respect to health hazards, waste disposal, and objectionable odors, and smoke.

Medical Care Plans Liked

The great majority of people are satisfied with voluntary prepaid medical care plans; they think they are paying more for the service than is actually the case—and they'd be willing to increase their payments in return for expanded benefits.

That sums up a public opinion survey conducted by the Michigan State Medical Society over a period of four months. The study included interview surveys with 1,000 people, a questionnaire mailed to more than 60,000 others, and a separate survey of doctor opinion.

Eighty-one per cent of Michigan residents are covered by some form of health insurance, with about two-thirds enrolled in the Blue Shield organization. According to the survey, 64 per cent of those covered like the service, and only 10 per cent expressed an unfavorable opinion, with the remainder non-committal.

It also showed that Blue Shield subscribers believe they pay an average of $5.59 a month for medical and surgical coverage—whereas the actual average figure is $2.63. This big discrepancy between fact and opinion is no doubt accounted for by the fact that payments are commonly made under a payroll-deduction system. The majority are willing to pay up to $6.95 a month in order to obtain additional benefits such as diagnostic service, emergency house calls, vaccinations, surgery in doctors' offices and medical consultations.

On the doctors' side, there was a feeling that payments for services rendered have not kept pace with rising costs in general. On the basis of the information gained, the Michigan House of Delegates approved a number of broad principles for improving and broadening the service and bringing it into line with the needs and conditions of today.

Voluntary health insurance isn't perfect—what is? But it is doing a fine and necessary job, it is doing it without tapping the public treasuries, and it is steadily improving.

Priced out of the Market

A leading newspaper recently carried two important stories side by side on the front page. One was headlined: "Labor to seek higher wages, shorter week." The other headline read: "November jobless highest since 1949."

This puts one in mind of the irresistible force and the immovable object.

Labor can press for higher wages and shorter work-weeks, and very likely it can get them. But labor can't make people buy the goods and services that keep the labor force employed.

A worker, like a product, can be priced out of the market. There is plenty of evidence that this is beginning to happen now.

Dedicated to Freedom

National Newspaper Week is most important. It is dedicated to a cause. It goes further than promoting the home town newspaper. It upholds our way of life.

We accept our newspaper with its coverage of local and national news as being free of influences that would make it unreliable as a source of uncontrolled information and comment. In the dictatorships the press is cynically used to advance the interests of those in power.

The newspaper is a voice that represents the meaning of free enterprise—the American way of life. It is the voice of the boot black, the corner grocer, the municipality—all of us. Without it people would be victimized by political groups and power hungry dictators. Without an uncensored press our country would become a sitting duck for ambitious rulers.

National Newspaper Week honors and upholds freedom of thought and expression.

Grassroots Opinion

WALTERSBORO, S. C., PRESS AND STAND-ARD: "We hate to hear any speaker, or an individual damn minority groups for any condition which might arise. What the individual who does forgets is that this country is made up of minority groups, that this country's greatness has stemmed from the fact that minority groups have been working together for the good of the whole."

BENTON, TEXAS, RECORD-CHRONICLE: "In a long list of elections, where the government-in-business principle was the issue, sentiment against it, as expressed in the vote, has been overwhelming. Socialism is usually imposed on us from above—not by the vote of the people."

BROOKVILLE, PA., AMERICAN: "A new long-range flood control program . . . to spot emergencies before they become acute and thus forestall disasters in chronically disabled areas, will save millions of dollars in property loss and alleviate human suffering."

ROSEBURG, ORE., NEWS-REVIEW: "It takes difference of opinion, difference of policy and political theory to make good government. The best government is obtainable when the division between major schools of thought is nearly equal."

MANCHESTER, TENN., TIMES: "You can always spot a well-informed man when he talks—his views are the same as yours."

VESTA, MINN., VISION: " . . . of all the bad things that a few hunters do, the thing that makes farmers maddest, is shooting around and towards the farm buildings, and in the direction of livestock or human beings."

Rivalling the Missiles

We're used to soaring things these days—jet planes, missiles, satellites. But on a more prosaic and personal level, the gasoline tax rivals them.

For instance, gasoline taxes collected in Arizona in just two days equal the total paid in the whole first year of the tax's enactment, which was 1921 in this state's case. And Arizona is not a special, isolated example. The same thing happens in Nevada in five days; in Oregon in three days; in Washington in five days; in California in eleven days, and so on. In more Easterly states the jump has been somewhat less. However, the taxes paid in most of the 48 states during January will equal the total tax collected in the first year of their existence.

It's true, of course, that there are many more vehicles in use now than there were in the early 20's, when most states imposed gas taxes. But this only partially explains why gas tax collections from the driving public now run as much as 183 times the former figure. In the beginning, the tax was usually one cent a gallon or, at the most, two cents. There was no federal tax. Now the states impose taxes of five cents, six cents and more and a three cent federal tax goes on top of that.

One moral to be drawn from this record is that once government starts taxing a service or a commodity, there's virtually no limit to which it ultimately will not go. Another is that taxes are a far more important factor in setting the cost of many items than we generally realize. The price of gasoline, excluding taxes, is actually lower today than it was in the 20's. But, in typical states, the tax adds a third or more to the cost.

Education—or Training?

Dorothy Thompson looks at education: "Most American parents do not want their children to be educated. They want them to be trained for a specific function. They despise 'useless' knowledge. So our high schools are forced to teach everything under the sun, typing, home economics, mechanics, parenthood, and many other things that young people once learned at home, in specialized schools, or as an apprentice. But a real educational institution is not a job factory."

TAX FACTS

Eighteen statewide taxpayer organizations, including the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, called on Congress today to give the nation a tax revision program that embraces two highly important principles:

(a) An income tax, individual and corporate, that embodies rates and principles which will not handicap this country in achieving and maintaining the greatest economic strength of which our free enterprise and individual incentive is capable.

(b) A tax structure that leaves to the states and the local government sufficient areas of taxation and sufficient taxing capacity to enable them to finance their needs.

With regard to the achievement of a better income tax structure, Congress has two important proposals, H. R. 6452 introduced by Congressman A. N. Sadlak (R-Conn.) and H. R. 9119 introduced by Congressman A. S. Herlong, Jr. (D-Fla.) Congressmen Sadlak and Herlong have made an exhaustive exposition of what these bills will accomplish. They will reduce personal and corporate taxes in a series of steps, but the reductions in rates will be offset by increased revenue resulting from normal economic growth.

To a great extent the Federal government has usurped, at the expense of the state and local governments both the area of tax resources and the tax capacity of those resources.

Over the past 25 years the Federal tax has increased 40 times, while state and local tax collections have increased 4½ times. The impact of Federal taxes on state and local taxing capacity is illustrated by comparing taxes with the personal income of all people. In the 1950's, this item had fallen to 7 to 8 per cent of personal income. Federal taxes, which averaged 6 to 7 per cent of personal income during the 1930's have been running at the rate of 22 to 24 per cent of personal income in the 1950's.

The Federal government should refrain from undertaking new grant-in-aid programs, and cut back as rapidly as possible on those which do exist. Such action would reduce Federal taxes to the point where the state and local governments may, if they wish, levy their own taxes for necessary programs at less costs to the taxpayers.

For the last 10 years Congress has been told by authoritative sources, including the Hoover Commission and the Joint Federal-State Committee, what steps to follow to get on with the job. The necessity has never been greater than now.

Lindenhurst Officials.....

been set up within the board of trustees to deal with current problems of the village. The license and ordinance committee revises the above ordinances when necessary, and with the help of the village attorney, prepares new ordinances when needed. An example of the work of this committee is the revising of the village speed limit ordinance to conform to the new state traffic laws. The committee also regulates liquor licenses, peddlers' licenses, etc.

The finance committee prepared an appropriation ordinance for the year. This was done by estimating the income and expenditures of the village. As this was the first year of the village, a few of the estimates were somewhat in error, as we had no previous experience. Next year, of course, this job will be easier, as the past year will serve as a guide.

Sources of Income

The major sources of income for the village have been building permits, gasoline, tax refunds from the state, and auto licenses. The village has not received any income from real estate taxes. Your tax increase which you paid in 1957 was due to state, county, township, fire district, and school taxes. None of this money was paid to the village. A summary of the income and expenses of the village is on an attached sheet. The finance committee also worked with the village treasurer in setting up a bookkeeping system.

The streets and alleys committee plans and supervises all work done on the village streets, with the help of the village engineer. The committee set up a system of arterial streets which was approved by the state. This was necessary as all motor fuel tax refunds must be spent on state approved projects on these arterial streets.

The four entrances on Grand Ave. have had lights installed. The cost, $13 per month, is only for equipment rental with no charge for electricity. Maintenance is done by the Public Service Company. Village limit signs, and stop signs at all roads meeting Grand Ave. have been posted.

Save Money for Surfacing

The money thus far on our roads has been kept to a minimum. Only the necessary work was done to keep the roads in condition for future development. In this manner, the major portion of gasoline tax money can be saved for surfacing our gravel roads with the same all-weather material as our newer roads. In the long run, this will save money, as gravel roads constantly require grading and new gravel, while surfaced roads require little maintenance. Our codes provide that subdividers must provide surfaced roads for all future roads. The committee plans to begin surfacing work about June, 1958.

Other future plans include a complete street lighting system throughout the village, improved drainage, lining ditches to prevent erosion, seeding of ditches, and erecting stop signs, speed signs and school signs. The police committee has appointed a village marshal and eight volunteer patrolmen. These men have been supplied with uniforms and equipment. A police car fund was set up with private donations, and a new car purchased. No village money has gone into this fund. The car will be fully equipped with radio, spotlight, and emergency equipment. The committee plans to appoint two police matrons.

Study Sewage Disposal

The sewer and water committee has undertaken a study of sewage disposal problems existing in the village. The ultimate aim of the study is a sewage treatment plant, but this is not planned for the near future.

The immediate goal of the committee is to find the best solution to problems in certain critical areas of the village. Several plans have been looked at, and progress has been made although the problem is not yet solved.

No specific projects have been started by the committee on parks, buildings, and grounds, because no money was appropriated. It was felt that, with the limited amount of cash available in the first year, streets and a police force had to come first. However, the committee is working on a long range plan to eventually create Willow Park in the northwest section of our village. Sketches and plans will be drawn up to beautify this area.

Annexation

Other projects of the Board of trustees during the past year include annexation of adjacent land for future subdivision, and the creation of special permanent committees outside of the board itself.

A plan commission has been set up to prepare an overall plan for developing the village and nearby area. This group will study the future needs of the village in such matters as shopping areas, sewage treatment, post office, park and playground facilities, and new subdivisions.

A zoning board of appeals was created to administer our zoning ordinance. This board will hear all appeals for zoning variations and for rezoning, and will make any necessary recommendations to the board of trustees for such changes.

A board of health was appointed to enforce all village ordinances regarding sanitation, weed control, and quarantine of contagious diseases.

In summary, 1957 was a year of organization and planning. The village has begun on a sound financial basis without borrowing money, and the board of trustees intends to keep it that way. For this reason, major improvements will come slowly, but gradually these improvements will come. Road maintenance and paving is our first large-scale project.

With most of the details of writing ordinances and appointing committees completed, your officials plan to devote their efforts toward working with all of you for a better Lindenhurst.

The Lindenhurst officials are: Village President, Robert Randall; Village Trustees: Ted Brendel, ch. street committee; Lowell Graves, ch. ordinances and licenses committee; Craig Henderson, ch. finance committee; Paul Hunt, ch. sewer and water committee; Rhonda Sanders, ch. building and grounds committee and John Slove, ch. police committee.

Village Clerk, Evelyn Hay; Police Magistrate, Ray Caldwell; Village Treasurer, Jean Beller; Village Attorney, Ellis Fuqua; Village Engineer, Richard Thacker; Police Marshal, Fred Beller; Building Inspector, William Kaub; Chairman, Plan Commission, Carl Larson; and Chairman, Zoning Board of Appeals, Harold Behrendt.

U. of I. Food Report

Chicago Retail Food Markets
CHICAGO—Red meats have stabilized in price, lower-cost lamb is added to the value list, poultry is a continuing value, weather ravished produce is higher, and economy-minded homemakers can stretch the food dollar by buying processed fruits and vegetables.

That in summary is the Chicago area retail food picture that reflects in the weekly survey of wholesale and retail food costs by the University of Illinois consumer service.

In essence, the market is continuing in the pattern reported the previous two weeks, with emphasis on the worsening fresh produce situation coming on the heels of a new round of devastating weather in the south. It is believed that the salvation now to high priced, scarce and questionable-quality produce will be an early spring in northern growing regions.

The current week shows, however, a representative list of relative food values, everything considered, with meats offering a fairly wide bargain selection this pre-Lenten week.

Lamb, particularly forequarter sections, is down at all levels of the market. Beef is steady at the lower prices reported last week. Pork is firm but not cheap. Poultry is steady, with backlogs building up for fryers. Eggs are steady this week but heading into an upturn for Lent in anticipation of higher consumer demand.

Staple-item potatoes and onions joined in the price advances of the so-called tender, leafy produce items hit by the freeze.

The value list for the week ending Feb. 15 includes the following considerations:

Meats—Round, sirloin and porterhouse steaks, lamb shoulder roasts, pork chops, bacon, frankfurters; poultry—fryers, stewing hens, turkey, mixed medium size eggs; produce—carrots, broccoli, lettuce, avocados, grapefruit, Emperor grapes, bananas.

A menu special might be frankfurters and sauerkraut, since the week has been designated for this favorite.

The impact of weather on fresh produce can be seen in two or three examples of wholesale prices, the pattern involving most southern grown crops. Tomatoes, ranging widely in quality, show a wholesale price of 25¢ per pound, which could translate out at a typical 49¢ per pound retail. Top quality would be higher. Wholesale snap beans bring $15 per crate, or 50¢ a pound for average, $21 a crate for top quality and about impossible to buy. A typical market price would be in the neighborhood of $3 per crate. Cabbage, a dollar last Friday to $3.75-$4.00 per 50-lb. crate, which is about 8¢ per pound wholesale—whereas 8-9¢ is a more seasonally expected retail price.

The answer until a new crop replenishes supply is for consumers to look at more stable priced canned and frozen fruits and vegetables to achieve savings without restricting purchases in this department.

Grass Lake P.T.A. Represented at Co. Founders Day Dinner

Grass Lake P.T.A. was well represented at the annual Founders Day dinner of the Lake County Council of P.T.A.'s on February 6 at 6:30 p. m. It was attended by Mrs. Cole Golden, principal of the Grass Lake School, Mrs. Wilbert Schaefer, vice-president of the P. T. A., Mrs. C. Queen, Mrs. Jane Fowell, Mrs. Francis Burke, Mrs. George Horn, and Mrs. Earl Beese. State Rep. W. J. Murphy and Mrs. Murphy also attended and were introduced as representing the Grass Lake area.

Two guest students, representing the Future Teachers of America, were taken. These were Pat Jesse, senior at Antioch High school, and Carolyn Stoeffel, a junior. Both of these girls are planning to be teachers. Parliamentary Procedure Class awards were received by Mrs. Karl Hawkins, president of the P. T. A., Mrs. James Ferrier, secretary, and Mrs. William Zale, treasurer. In their absence these were accepted by Mrs. Schaefer. A provocative speaker, Dr. Wells D. Burnette, vice-president of Roosevelt University, Chicago, and some fine musical entertainment by students of Waukegan Township High School, as well as delicious food made it an evening to be remembered by all who attended.

Will Honor Founders
Our Founders will be honored at the regular meeting of the Grass Lake P. T. A. at 8 p. m. Monday, Feb. 17, in the school.

The theme of the program will center around the lighting of Founders Day candles and a review of past accomplishments of the P. T. A. A film entitled "Farewell to Childhood" will be presented, and there will be open discussion afterward. When the meeting adjourns refreshments will be served for all.

J. Irving Walsh Attends 3-Day Training Workshop

J. Irving Walsh, of Antioch Lumber & Coal Company, Antioch, was among 45 building material retailers, architects, and builders who completed a concentrated 3-day training workshop in Advanced Estimating Techniques at Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3, 4, and 5.

The workshop was sponsored by the Illinois Lumber & Material Dealers Ass'n, Inc., a trade association representing the lumber and building material retailers in downstate Illinois. The instruction was provided by James P. Adams, of Collinsville, Conn.

The purpose of the workshop was to enable the lumber dealers involved to provide a greater service to their customers by being able to give those customers rapidly an accurate cost estimate of the materials required to build a new home or garage or to modernize an older home.

Deadline For Displaying 1958 Plates February 16th

The deadline for displaying this year's license plates is Sunday, Feb. 16, and there will be no extension, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said.

"We announced the deadline last November, and have repeatedly pointed out since then that mail applications should be in our office two weeks before the display deadline to allow sufficient time for the plates to reach the applicants' address," Secretary Carpenter said.

"Newspapers, radio stations and television stations have been more than generous in the amount of space and time they have devoted to bringing that information to the public's attention," Mr. Carpenter said. "Consequently, we feel there has been ample warning, and in fairness to the majority of motorists, who have fulfilled their license obligation to the state, no additional time should be granted."

Daughter Stricken as Mother Lay a Corpse

Mrs. Pat (Louise) Miller of Petite Lake, Antioch was notified last Thursday of the death of her mother, Nettie Zeien, of Union, Ill., in Belvidere Hospital, Belvidere, Ill. Mrs. Miller visited Cooper's Funeral Home in Marengo Thursday and Friday nights, but on Saturday morning, she became ill and was unable to attend the funeral.

drawing of every building in the county. It is estimated that several years will be required to complete this work.

When eventually completed, each township will have a complete file of property descriptions and a duplicate set of cards will be in the offices of the County Board of Review. This system, its originators say, will eliminate errors and discrepancies in records that have existed in the past.

Another meeting of the Assessors' Association has been scheduled for March 6 when further details of Quadrennial procedure will be discussed.

Antioch took a 19-10 lead in the first quarter, and although Grayslake played them about even in the second quarter, they were never able to head off the Sequoits.

Dick Behrens added five field goals to the total making them at a time when they were needed.

For the losers, Bob Clow, ranking just below the Antioch stars in scoring, was high man for the Rams with 23 points.

McHenry Game a Thriller
The game at McHenry Saturday night was a thriller.

Although they fell behind on three occasions in their game with the Warriors, the Sequoits battled right back and in the fourth period knotted the score 66-66, with Wayne Herbst hitting a 30-foot jump shot, Don Pyles driving in for one and tipping in another, and Jerry Dittmer connecting on a 20-foot jump shot.

Here again McHenry became aggressive and scored 10 points for what seemed an easy coast in. But again the Sequoits fought back. Two long jump shots by Herbst, who also connected for two free-throws, and a free throw by Art Hanke narrowed the gap to 76-73 with 1:05 to go.

Matt Eichinger added to McHenry's lead with two free throws, which were enough to win the game even though Hanke scored from the field, and Pyles, after intercepting a McHenry pass, fired to Herbst for another basket in the final three seconds.

Herbst's long range shooting gave him a total of 31 points, Hanke and Dick Behrens got 15 points each and Pyles, filling in for Pat Roach, got 10 points.

Revenge Against Grant
The victory over Grant was sweet revenge. The Sequoits led at the quarter 14 to 11, and then poured it on the second quarter to make the half 36 to 19.

Hanke led in the scoring with 20 points while Herbst was right behind him with 19. Behrens and Pyles both contributed 12 points and Pat Roach, 8.

The Antioch Frosh-Soph team won from the Grant underclassmen.

In the preliminary 46 to 35. At McHenry the Antioch underclassmen lost 63 to 41, but at Grayslake they won 44 to 43.

Miss Eileen Wilson will review articles in the Child Welfare Magazine.

Six new members were added to the Boy Scout Owl Patrol at the meeting held Monday at the Methodist Episcopal Church. Robert Strang, Charles Rothers, Roger Williams, Roger Brogan, Syd Elden and Bernard Osmond joined that day.

Tests were given on the Scout oath, law, sign, salute and motto, history of the flag, six scout knots and the meaning of the Scout badge. Members are asked to bring their dues of five cents to the next meeting.

An early Sunday morning fire completely destroyed the Cupboard, night eating place located between the Sinclair and Murrie's Standard service stations on Main St. The building, owned by William Morley, was valued at close to $1,000 and was insured for $400 and the contents for $100. The fire had already practically destroyed the building when the fire department arrived. Two trucks were taken out. It was feared at one time that the stations on either side and the garage might catch since the wind added to the hazard of the fire.

It is believed the blaze started from an overheated coal stove. Shortly before closing, about an hour before the flames were noticed, the stove had been fired up. The alarm was sent in about 5:30.

George Garland, who is spending a few weeks in Florida, is the proud possessor of a membership in the Miami Sail-Fish Club, presented to him by the City of Miami in recognition of his powers in being able to land a sailfish, the prize catch, as it is considered the gamiest fish in the water. It measures six feet and two inches in length and took thirty minutes to land.

George was fishing with friends from Milwaukee and Chicago about ten miles off the coast of Miami in the gulf stream on the Cruiser "Sand Spur." Out of the many, many hundreds fishing off the waters around Miami, there were only 636 registered members of the Sail-Fish Club, so George will have some fish story to tell when he gets home.

Through a long term lease becoming effective Wednesday, F. B. Swanson, owner of the Antioch Theatre, has taken over the management of the Crystal Theatre in Antioch for the second time within the last few years. The deal was completed this week, interested parties announced.

The Crystal (now the Lakes) was built several years ago by P. E. Chinn, who operated a theatre very successfully for many years, and later by Mrs. Chinn when her husband became manager of the local A & P store. Mr. Swanson formerly held a lease on the theatre, but he was succeeded last spring by Guercio Brothers, who relinquished their lease after several months operation. During the present winter Mrs. Chinn again became manager.

The lease on the Crystal gives Swanson control of five theatres, four of which are being successfully operated at the present time. He plans to reopen the Crystal in the near future.

Today at Lake Catherine

"The most satisfactory ice harvest in five years," was the pronouncement of William Nissen, proprietor of Crandall Ice Co. this noon when the harvest was completed.

Thirty-five men have been working at Lake Catherine the past two weeks cutting ice which amounted to 8,000 tons. The ice, according to Mr. Nissen, was 11 to 15 inches deep and because of the excellent freeze last week, clearer than the ice harvested for a number of years.

That Antioch admirers and sons and husbands are more attentive than those in the city would be indicated this week by the contrasting reports from Chicago and local dealers on Valentine sales. Chicago papers reported that men no longer send valentines, while here the sale on both valentine candy boxes and messages was much better than expected, in view of present business conditions.

Read 1 Corinthians 3: 9-17.
We work with God, and that means that you are a field under God's cultivation. (1 Corinthians 3: 9, Phillips.)

People approach the Lenten season in different ways. For some this is the period of self-denial, the time to say "No" to some indulgence. For others, Lent is the season in which to practice the cultivation of "our soul's little garden," a part of the great garden of God, as Evelyn Underhill has expressed.

The loveliness of a garden and the usefulness of a man's life do not just happen. Pruning, weeding, transplanting—these need to be done in every garden, and from season to season, if beauty is to follow.

Do not a well-kept garden and a man doing God's will both witness to the love and understanding care used in their development? A charming garden proves that man cares: a life in harmony with Christ testifies to the power of God's love.

Eternal God, Father of all men, may we this day choose to walk with Thee. We know it will exact from us strict discipline, but we understand that only so can our lives be made beautiful and useful in Thy Kingdom. Thine shall be the glory; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Val Nicpon, Antioch, 217, 180, 229, —626, total 672; Ted Oza, 214, 192, 225—631, total 689; and M. Shepard, 218, 202, 220—640, total 666, were other Antioch men who finished among the first 37 in the money.

High actual for the series of the tournament was bowled by Roy Glomski, a 676, for a prize of $75. Clarence Pacheco, Melrose Park, 671 won $35 for a second high actual series; and Joe Rajacic, Chicago, 669, third.

Top prize of $500 was won by Donald W. Coombs, River Forest on his score of 683 with a 52 handicap for a total of 735 pins.

Second prize of $300 went to H. O'Connell, Chicago, 652-60—712; 3rd prize of $200 to John E. Markee, Oak Park, 661-46—707; fourth, $130, Johnny Fero, Cicero, 666-38—704; fifth, Pat Gavigan, Waukegan, 656-46—702, $100; and sixth, Clarence Pacheco, Melrose Park, 671-28—699, $90.

Gas Company Breaks 24 Hour Send-Out Record

Northern Illinois Gas Company's 24-hour send-out record was broken on both Sunday and Monday (Feb. 9 and 10) during current cold wave.

The former record of 461 million cubic feet of gas used during a noon-to-noon period on January 17, 1957, first was exceeded on Feb. 9 by about six million cubic feet, and the newest peak came Feb. 10, as 485 million cubic feet was used by the utility's approximate 600,000 customers. This includes about 247,000 who heat their homes with gas, approximately 18,000 more than when the 1957 record was established.

According to E. D. Sheehan, vice-president in charge of operations, the utility used its daily pipeline supply as of about 350 million cubic feet during both record-breaking periods as well as approximately 111 million cubic feet the first day, and 132 million the second, from the Herscher underground storage reservoir. In addition, the company used its own gas-making facilities to help meet the record demands.

Heat Demand Meter Proves This Winter Colder Than 1956-57

It shouldn't take much argument to convince the public that this winter is colder than last winter, but in event there is doubt, W. V. Lahti, local oil dealer has figures to prove it.

Lahti has joint ownership of a Heat Demand Meter at Fox Lake which not only records the temperature but records the demand for heat in an average home in this area.

Housed to simulate the protection of the average home, the instruments record the effect of the sun's rays, cloudiness, and windiness on the effort to heat a dwelling.

Lahti said that as of Feb. 11 the degrees of heat demanded this winter was 4,500 in contrast to 4,310 needed by the same date last year.

The temperature was much colder by Jan. 15, but during the last two weeks of January the warm weather brought the heat degree demand up to about equal. The record at the end of January was 3,937 this year in contrast to 3,927 last year.

Zero weather in the past week has increased the demand quite a bit, and it would have been more had there not been sunshine and low wind velocity.

The total for Antioch is about 300 degrees more than Chicago each year.
